

sponsor courses of multi-cultural life and character education to offer teenagers' opportunities through a variety of rural services.

As a Catholic university, Fu Jen is strongly committed to the highest ideal of being "immersed in human society." Our university searches for truth in dialogue with society, and advocates compassion for those in need. Taking social development as an important focus in Fu Jen's mission, the university encourages its students to develop a broad and open-hearted vision of service, take a deep interest in public issues, acquire proper knowledge of social involvement, and take action to introduce positive values that contribute to Taiwan's welfare and cultural diversity.
